FROM: Robert Ludwig
Office of Pollution Prevention and Technology Development

DATE: June 2006

SUBJECT: NATIONAL POLLUTION PREVENTION WEEK,
SEPTEMBER 18-24, 2006

National Pollution Prevention Week 2006 (NP2W 06) is September 18-24 and the theme is "The Future Is Now." To highlight this event and to promote pollution prevention throughout the year, the East Bay Municipal Utility District (EBMUD) of Oakland, California, has graciously provided the Department of Toxic Substances Control (DTSC) with the artwork for the NP2W 06 poster. This year's poster was designed by Ms. Anne Subercaseaux who also created the poster artwork in 1996, 1998, 2000, 2002, and 2004. Ms. Subercaseaux and EBMUD have distinguished themselves over the past thirteen years as promoters and leaders of pollution prevention.

NP2W 06 posters are available while supplies last from DTSC's Office of Pollution Prevention and Technology Development and can be obtained by calling (916) 322-3670 or via e-mail at rludwig@dtsc.ca.gov. A downloadable poster and other promotional information are available at http://www.dtsc.ca.gov/PollutionPrevention/index.cfm#National_Pollution_Prevention_Week_2006_-_September_18-24,_2006.
